Angela says that one of her strengths is that she is a planner and able to manage the care of all of the children. When the weather is warm, Angela says that they play outside and walk to the library. Angela believes in learn through play so the children have a lot of free-play opportunities with her many toys. Angela says that they do crafts with play-doh and paint and make things for holidays. Angela said that they made 4th of July shirts last year.

Angela offers an occasional "Parent's Nigh Out" where daycare parents can bring their children one evening for a donation offering, which is used for purchasing supplies. Angela says that she receives a lot of positive reviews from parents.
